

Fuse Research Programme Meeting

Planning for a healthier future: Priorities and Practicalities

Wednesday 18 May 2022, 9.30am to 12.50pm

Teesside University, Stephenson Lecture Theatre

Building 16 \(IC\) on the campus map

PROGRAMME

09.30 - 10.50: Session 1 (Chair: Prof Amelia Lake)
09.30 - 09.35	Welcome & housekeeping Prof Amelia Lake, Professor of Public Health Nutrition, Teesside University, and Associate Director of Fuse, the Centre for Translational Research in Public Health
09.35 - 10.00	Healthy Cities? Design for Well-being [in person presentation] Prof Tim Townshend, Professor of Urban Design for Health, Newcastle University
10.00 - 10.25	Levelling up health disparities through spatial planning? [remote presentation] Mr Michael Chang, Programme Manager - Planning and Health Healthy Places and Communities, Office for Health Improvement and Disparities, Department of Health and Social Care
10.25 - 10.40	Enhanced takeaway services during the COVID-19 pandemic: consumer behaviours and experiences [in person presentation] Dr Mackenzie Fong, Research Fellow in Prevention, Early Intervention and Behaviour Change, NIHR Applied Research Collaboration (ARC) North East & North Cumbria (NENC), Newcastle University
10.40 - 11.00	Hot food takeaway applications: what more can be done? [in person presentation] Prof Amelia Lake, Professor of Public Health Nutrition, Teesside University / Fuse Dr Helen Moore, Associate Professor (Research), Teesside University
11.00 - 11.30	Comfort and refreshment break
11.30 - 12.45: Session 2 (Chair: Dr Helen Moore)
11.30 - 11.55	Embedding health into local planning policy [remote presentation] Lucy Greenfield, Planning Officer, Gateshead Council

11.55 - 12.20	Levelling up our towns and cities [in person presentation] Dr Nick Gray, Research Associate, Teesside University
12.20 - 12.45	How can we measure and assess the food environment: A practical example exploring the growth of dark kitchens in North East England [in person presentation] Prof Heather Brown, Professor of Health Inequalities, Lancaster University
12.45 - 12.50	Summary and thanks Professor Amelia Lake, Teesside University / Fuse

Tweet about the event using #FuseRPM and #planningforhealth

Follow Fuse @fuse_online